

ACROSS THE RIVER.

Further Particulars of the Arrest of Sullivan.

Council Bluffs to Have a New and Elegant Opera House.

No Direct Evidence to Connect Him With Sapp's Murder.

The Smallpox Case Moved Out of Town in a Hurry.

Newsy Notes and Pleasant Personal Mention.

Council Bluffs has in her midst a "James E. Boyd" in the person of J. J. Brown, who will as soon as certain arrangements about a location are perfected commence the erection of a first-class opera house. We can say with authority that on or before the first of January, A. D. 1883, Brown's Opera house will be dedicated to the drama. This new enterprise should be encouraged at every step by the people. Our city to-day with twenty thousands inhabitants in without a good place of amusement. Mr. Doherty has done the very best he could in this direction, and deserves the thanks of this entire community. There is no doubt but that Mr. Doherty will always have a demand for the old opera house. But the growth of our city demands one on a grander scale, and thanks to J. J. Brown, we are going to get it. There is no institution in Omaha that the people are more proud of than their opera house—no one citizen they are more proud of than its proprietor, James E. Boyd. The same pride will be taken in our new opera house when completed, and the name of its proprietor, J. J. Brown, will become a household word.

THE SAPP MURDER.

Eugene Sullivan who was jailed last Sunday on suspicion of being connected with the murder of John S. Sapp, was arraigned before Justice Abbott yesterday. The case was continued until the 5th of December, at which time the grand jury will be in session. At present there does not seem to be very much testimony pointing to the guilt of Sullivan. A gentleman by the name of Forney, well known as traveling agent and correspondent for the Nonpareil, on the morning of the murder being in the vicinity of the railroad depot below where Sapp was killed, noticed a man jump out of a box car and run the same man afterwards approached Forney and inquired the way to the Wabash depot. Forney observed the man very closely; he had blood on the side of his face, woolen mittens on and seemed very much excited. On the day Sullivan was arrested by Mr. Johnson, sheriff of Page county, Mr. Forney happened to be in Clarinda, and noticing the same man entered into conversation with him. He asked him if he had not been in the western part of the state. He replied "that he had." He then asked him "if he was the same man that engaged the way to the Wabash depot in Council Bluffs about a year ago." He replied that he was the same man. Mr. Forney noticed a scar on his face. He reported the case to Sheriff Johnson who immediately made the arrest. Mr. Johnson put the same questions to him that Forney did, and he denied being in Council Bluffs about a year ago or meeting Mr. Forney, said he had not been here for about ten years. Johnson communicated the fact of the arrest to Perry Reel, and A. F. Clatterbuck was dispatched to take Sullivan in charge. On the way to this city he was very peaceable, giving the officer no trouble whatever. He stated to Clatterbuck in conversation that he was in Council Bluffs but twice, once in 1872, and again in 1874. In 1872 he said he came here over the Wabash and Saint Louis railroad as there was no such road running here during either of the above years. The fellow undoubtedly meant some other. Mr. Clatterbuck says that when he seemed to fear that when they arrived here he would be lynched, and several times asked the officer if he thought they would kill him. From his appearance, Sullivan is evidently a hard case, but whether the authorities will develop testimony against him sufficient to warrant an indictment looks very doubtful.

THE CARLAND MURKAY

combination opened to large and appreciative audience last night. John Murray is one of the finest actors in his line, no doubt, in this country. Grace Carland has few if any superiors. In fact, the entire company are first-class. Nunn Bros' orchestra furnishes excellent music. The price of admission is within the reach of all. We bespeak for them a well filled house nightly during their stay in Council Bluffs.

ENJOYING A RIDE.

Saturday afternoon some of the children of the city took advantage of the low Herdic fare and treated themselves to a ride. By the looks of their cheerful little faces as they rode by they were all delighted and no doubt think our mayor one splendid little energetic man, and hope he will succeed in his new enterprise.

THAT "CASE" GONE.

The only case of smallpox that has been heard of has left the city. For their promptness in this matter the city authorities deserve thanks.

A DESERVING MAN.

James Spaulding, before receiving the injury that will cause him to carry the empty sleeve through life, was a hard-working, sober, industrious man, a good citizen, and has been a brave soldier. He lost his arm while engaged in carrying out the city's programme for observing the day long to be remembered when our president's remains were consigned to the dust.

There is one position he could fill in the gift of the city council—that is, as day policeman or watchman. Why not give him the chance?

THE PLUMBER'S DISGRACE.

The case against the two Plumber boys continued to yesterday was called in Judge Burke's court. After hearing the evidence the court not deeming it sufficient therefore discharged them immediately. G. H. Plumber was re-arrested on complaint for maintaining filed in Justice Abbott's court. He pleaded not guilty and was admitted to bail for his appearance to-morrow morning. We understand a change of venue was also taken.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS.

Some of the men working on a frame building in the rear of Joseph Reiter's tailor shop were arrested by the city authorities on the charge that they were unlawfully erecting a frame building within the fire limits of the city. They were allowed to proceed on promising to comply with the ordinance.

John Ryan and Thomas Burns, all the way from Omaha, were engaged in raising a band on Eighth street. They were indulging in profane swearing and loud and abusive talk. Officers Cusic and Brooks appeared upon the scene and took them in. They were tried, found guilty and sent to the stone pile to work out their fine.

The Baptist society will be entertained by Mrs. Seaman, Mrs. Waltham, Mrs. Odell and Mrs. Bushnell at the residence of Wm. Bushnell, in Glendale, consisting of music, select readings, &c.

M. I. Hardin, our street supervisor, hasn't much faith in the levee project. He thinks that five or six thousand dollars would build sufficient to prevent inundation of the driving park provided sentinels were placed at convenient points to watch the "munk rats."

A large number of our citizens believe the city council refused to declare the vote wholly out of spite. We can hardly believe these men would neglect a sworn duty just to spite some body.

One hundred little bright-eyed boys were home happy yesterday. They had been in to Mueller's and taken a peep at Saint Nicholas or "Santa Claus."

Ira Smith the gentlemanly clerk at the Ogden is lying quite sick at the above hotel with congestion of the brain. Doctor Stillman is attending him.

A team loaded with brick broke down on Broadway yesterday afternoon, which gave the Herdies the advantage over the horse cars for a few moments.

Miss Boyle, sister of Mrs. L. C. Baldwin president of the board of trade leaves to-day for her home in Allegheny, Pennsylvania.

Mr. John Murray, Miss Carland and Miss Carrie Carter of the Cartland-Murray combination are stopping at the Ogden.

Will and J. F. Nunn, leaders of the band and orchestral music, with sixteen members of the Cartland-Murray combination, are at the Levee.

Nunn Brothers' silver cornet band discoursed some excellent music during their street parade yesterday.

Colonel E. F. Smythe, of Omaha, and C. W. Edgerton were seen in our streets yesterday. The colonel is in firm in the conviction that Watson B. Smith came to his death by an accidental discharge of his revolver, while in the act of locking his office door.

Andy McAuland, agent for Hartly & Graham, the celebrated gun maker of New York, took a fresh cigar in this city yesterday.

D. R. W. Williams, of Mystic; Conn., was in Council Bluffs yesterday at the Pacific.

J. A. Lusk and A. A. Gooms, of Logan, were at the Pacific yesterday.

Fraud.

Tens of thousands of dollars are squandered yearly upon traveling quacks, who go from town to town professing to cure all the ills that our poor humanity is heir to. Why will not the public learn common sense, and if they are suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint, give a dollar in Sprague's Bile Beans, sold by all druggists and induce by the faculty. See testimonials. Price 50 cents, trial bottles 10 cents.
